Homework Policy and Behavioral Philosophy	Homework will be assigned as needed to provide students an opportunity to practice concepts taught in class that day or be a review of previously covered material. It is expected that each student will give his/her best effort on homework assignment-utilizing the textbooks and class notes/examples as references to complete homework. Appropriate work will be shown which will enable the student and/or instructor to identify errors. Students will be expected to have homework with them when they arrive to class. Having your homework is part of being prepared for class. Subsequent offenses will receive the consequences as stated in the school handbook. Any student who displays habitually negative behaviors will meet with the principals.	Homework Philosophy "The application of homework within almost every learning activity is a valuable means of reinforcement and evaluation. It is the teacher's role to define such assignments and the responsibility of the students to complete them on time. Parents must also assume their responsibility in regard to student homework; therefore, proper communication between the home and the school are vital in establishing assignments, which can significantly contribute to the overall educational process."

Your writing will be evaluated using the PA Writing Rubrics and a teacher generated rubric specific to the assignment. Projects will be graded using rubrics and checklists as well. Test and quiz grades are entered into my grade book by points for correct answers. Keep up with your work and do not fall behind in reading the assigned literature because "pop" quizzes are possible. No matter what, you will always know how something is graded before you start the assignment. Students should keep a record of point totals in case there is a discrepancy. Grades will be posted online Friday mornings. Do not be afraid to ask for help or advice to improve your work. I am here to help you. I do not give bonus points, however, students have opportunities to revise/ reattempt some projects during the year. Late assignments, other than daily homework, will result in a deduction of one letter grade for each day late.	Academic Integrity "Students caught cheating, plagiarizing, copying homework and/or test, quizzes, and using a paper from the Internet will be given a "o" (zero) on that assignment. In addition, their name will be reported to the office and filed in the event of future violations. Repeated violation could result in removal from class and a non-passing grade." When a student is in jeopardy of failing, a progress report will be sent home.
