Description	This class is designed to prepare students to make wise choices in regard to their health as they enter adulthood. Subject areas covered are those relevant to their lives as they begin to live independently: consumer health and organ donation, human sexuality and childbirth, substance abuse, lifestyle disease, mental illnesses, body systems, health insurance, CPR, First Aid, and medical costs.
Texts Used	No text, the chromebooks will be used. Must have own pencil/pen.
Homework Policy and Philosophy	Homework is due the day after it is assigned. If a student is absent from school, homework that was assigned before the absence is due upon return. -If a student is absent from school, on the day it was assigned then the teacher will decide how long the student has to make up the work. -Homework that was assigned before the absence is due upon return. -Students will not have homework every night but, it is imperative that when it is assigned, it should be turned in. - All of the homework assignments are meant to increase understanding of the current topic.	Homework Philosophy "The application of homework within almost every learning activity is a valuable means of reinforcement and evaluation. It is the teacher's role to define such assignments and the responsibility of the students to complete them on time. Parents must also assume their responsibility in regard to student homework; therefore, proper communication between the home and the school are vital in establishing assignments, which can significantly contribute to the overall educational process."
Grading 96.5 A+ 92.5 A 89.5 A- 86.5 B+ 82.5 B 79.5 B- 76.5 C+ 72.5 C 69.5 C- 66.5 D+ 62.5 D	Student grades are based upon the total number of points earned for the nine weeks. The total earned is divided by the number of points possible. The resulting percentage equals a letter grade. (see scale at left). Students will be graded on the following: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Quizzes Tests Homework Projects 	Academic Integrity "Students caught cheating, plagiarizing, copying homework and/or test, quizzes, and using a paper from the Internet will be given a "o" (zero) on that assignment. In addition, their name will be reported to the office and filed in the event of future violations. Repeated violation could result in removal from class and a non-passing grade."
		When a student is in jeopardy of failing, a progress report will be sent home. This will occur after the 4th week of class.
